

Magazine: ERGOTAXIAKA Themata

The magazine of the construction industry's "giants"

- Published since 1995.
- The magazine is synonymous with specialized information on construction, investment in major infrastructure projects and the required equipment.
- It is complemented with selective and reliable information regarding new project tenders, new construction machinery launches, activities and new products of businesses in the sector, as well as reports on the development of construction projects with material and interviews directly from construction sites with the guidance of specialists and related operators.
- It addresses construction company executives, technical chambers, associations, technical services of the local authorities, contractors, site managers, engineers, designers, architects, owners and operators of construction machinery.

Website: www.ergotaxiaka.gr

